Fainting Spells

Always indicate a weak heart. They usually follow palpitation or fluttering, shortness of breath, irregular or intermittent pulse. When the heart muscles are overworked or exhausted they relax, the flow of blood to the brain is interrupted, and unconsciousness follows. Should relaxation continue completely for two or three minutes, sudden death is the result. The surest and best remedy for overworked and debilitated hearts is

DR. MILES'
Heart Cure."My heart trouble began several years ago with palpitation, shortness of breath and smothering. Then I began to have fainting spells and would fall over on the street or wherever I happened to be. I was unable to attend to my business and dare not venture away from home. The doctors failed to help me, and seeing an advertisement of Dr. Miles' Heart Cure I bought a bottle. The first few doses stopped the fainting spells and in a few weeks my heart was working all right."

THE DRAMA.

An excellent house greeted Lewis Morrison's first appearance in Honolulu. The play was Bulwer Lytton's stately drama "Richelleu." Mr. Morrison as "Cardinal Richelleu" completely won the audience with his presentation of the great character, rising with finely wrought gradation from the calm, self possessed consciousness of power in the first appearance through the dramatic climax of action as danger menaced, to the complete mastery of the man "entirely great." The audience was generous in its applause, carried by the masterful action of the play and the player to more and more enthusiasm and expression of enthusiasm, repeating curtain call after curtain call until it would have seemed without a word from the stage from the masterful "Richelleu" before it.

Mr. Morrison's little speech was courteous and complimentary and not without a touch of the vanity and satisfaction which many years of successful stage work must surely bring. The stately, classic lines of Lytton's masterpiece, were the vehicle last night for both the best work of the stars of the company, and the best work of the support that has been given by this company on this stage. As "Adrian de Mauprat" Lucas Henderson was admirable. Clarence Montaine was an excellent "Louis XIII." Paul Gerson as "Gaston, Duke de Orleans" showed a splendid elocution and a worthy conception of the character. Frank Readick as "Baradas" the king's favorite rose to the playwright's conception of the character. Jack Morris was the "Francois" of a clear and exalted realization of the action of the character. Clarence Arper was an excellent "Joseph." Carlyle Moore presented "De Berlinghen" excellently. Scott Robertson as "Hugues" a living character. James Rankin as "First Courier." Robert Shaw as "Captain of the Guard" and Will Benton as the "Secretary," though cast for minor parts made those parts fitting to the majestic whole. Miss Lillian Armsby was an excellent "Marion de Lorraine." Miss Florence Roberts as "Julie de Mortimar," ingenious, noble minded, pure, shared honors easily with Mr. Morrison. It was a noble drama worthily presented.

Thursday evening Mr. Morrison appears as "Shylock" in "The Merchant of Venice," and Saturday evening in "Faust."

MARCUS COLBURN DEAD.

Expired at His Home at Palama Last Night.

Marcus R. Colburn, the well known dray man and a man at one time in local politics, died at his home in Peterson's lane shortly before 12 o'clock last night after a long illness. He had been ailing for years and at several times had bad spells, but his fatal illness was of but a few days duration. Deceased was 43 years of age. His father was an American and mother a Hawaiian woman. A brother John F. Colburn, is the well known head of the Kaplani estate. Deceased also leaves a sister, Mrs. Parmenter, a wife and six children. The eldest son, a boy of fifteen, is a member of the Hawaiian band.

In the old days Mr. Colburn was prominently identified with the Kala-kaua and later the Liliuokalani parties in politics. He held several prominent positions. Some years ago he owned and operated an extensive express business, but bad health forced him to give up. Of late he had been a wharf clerk in the employ of the Oceanic Steamship Company.

CARTWRIGHT BUYS.

Bruce Cartwright has purchased from Harry Armitage the Rooke lot at the corner of Hotel and Union streets, bought by the latter at auction on Saturday for the total sum of $23,400. Mr. Cartwright already owns the Steiner and King Brothers buildings, and it is understood to be his intention to erect a fine new business block on the entire lot.

QUEEN WILHELMINA'S CROWN.
The crown that adorns the brow of Holland's youthful Queen is said to have cost $600,000. In 1829 it was stolen by burglars and remained in their possession for nearly two years. Eventually part of the stones were found near Brooklyn and the remainder were ultimately discovered in Belgium.FRIEND TO FRIEND.

It is not so much what the newspapers say, as what neighbor says to neighbor or friend to friend, that has brought Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy into such general use. It is as natural for people to express their gratitude after using this remedy as it is for water to flow down hill. It is the one remedy that can always be depended upon, whether a baby be sick with cholera infantum or a man with cholera morbus. It is pleasant, safe and reliable.
